

Work Design
Collaborative

helping to create the future of work sm

Reprinted from Future of Work Agenda
September 2009

Special Announcement: WDC Forms Alliance with e-Work.com

We are very pleased to announce a new partnership with e-Work.com, Inc, a global leader in e-Learning solutions that provide knowledge workers and their managers with the knowledge, tools, processes, and resources to thrive in a virtual workplace.

"We are excited to partner with the Work Design Collaborative, whose vision and mission complements the e-Work.com philosophy of building excellence and maximizing performance in the virtual workplace," said Neil Norris, CEO of e-Work.com. "We are particularly eager to collaborate with WDC in developing, testing, and refining workplace and workforce best practices with our clients."

Since both organizations are virtual workplace leaders in their own right, we expect the partnership to play a leading role in advancing best practices in the field. "We fully expect to see much of our advanced workplace research bear fruit in real-life applications," said Dr. Charlie Grantham, "proving our theories and advancing the practice of highly effective mobility. This is an exciting time for us and for the mobile workplace."

The principals at e-Work.com and WDC expect to collaborate on a number of levels. Both are active members of, and active contributors to, the CoreNet Global Workplace Knowledge Community.

For more information about e-Work.com and its world-class online learning capabilities, please visit this new page on our Future of Work website:

<http://www.thefutureofwork.net/eWork.html>

And you can go directly to a brief online video outlining e-Work.com's learning programs by clicking here: <http://www.e-work.com/ewvideo.html>. Or download this brief brochure describing e-Work's offerings and capabilities.

We are excited about this partnership and look forward to talking with many of you directly about this powerful addition to our service offerings.

About e-Work.com e-Work.com, Inc. (www.e-Work.com) builds excellence and maximum performance for the virtual workplace including mobile work, distributed work, and telework programs and virtual call center agents. e-Work.com offers highly interactive e-learning courses and management tools based on global best practices that are easy to customize. Neil Norris, CEO, and Michael Dziak, COO, the two e-Work.com principals, have over 30 years of virtual work experience at both large and small organizations, including Microsoft, Nissan, Aflac, Pacific Life, Pearson Education, and many others.

About the Work Design Collaborative and Future of Work Agenda

Future of Work is a global network of resources – practitioners, thought leaders, researchers, and senior consultants – who are committed to building and implementing physical, social, and technology-based work environments that are cost-effective, socially and environmentally responsible, and personally satisfying.

We are focused on defining the future of work and helping our members and clients achieve new levels of workforce and workplace productivity. Future of Work produces and distributes management tools, surveys, benchmark databases, white papers and technical reports, conferences and workshops, newsletters, books and articles, and public presentations on the changing nature of work. The Work Design Collaborative, LLC, provides leadership and infrastructure services for the Future of Work community.

Future of Work Agenda is a free monthly electronic newsletter produced by the Work Design Collaborative. To sign up for a subscription to Future of Work Agenda, please go to: http://www.thefutureofwork.net/news_newsletter_register.html.

Direct inquiries to either Charlie Grantham at charlie@thefutureofwork.net, or Jim Ware at jim@thefutureofwork.net.