If you are working on a story about the changing nature of work, workforce demographics, expectations, and behaviors, or how technology is reshaping where, when, and how work gets done, contact us anytime.

And if you are on a deadline, call us at +1 510.558.1434 to discuss your story and ask us for ideas and examples. If we are not immediately available, we'll call you back as soon as we can (we prefer a live conversation to an email exchange).

We can also help you get in touch with leading practitioners, authors, and other experts on a broad range of topics, including flexible work, distributed teams, telecommuting, mobile work, technology trends, co-working, managing change, and of course the future of work.

Contact us anytime to schedule an interview, or for assistance in researching your story.
